OPENING HYMN

ONWARD CHRISTIAN SOLDIER

1. Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus going on before.
Christ, the royal Master, leads against the foe;
Forward into battle see His banners go!
2. At the sign of triumph Satan's host doth flee;
On then, Christian soldiers, on to victory!
Hell's foundations quiver at the shout of praise;
Brothers lift your voices, loud your anthems raise.
(Refrain)
Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war,
With the cross of Jesus going on before.
3. Like a mighty army moves the church of God;
Brothers, we are treading where the saints have trod.
We are not divided, all one body we,
One in hope and doctrine, one in charity.
(Refrain)
4. What the saints established that I hold for true.
What the saints believèd, that I believe too.
Long as earth endureth, men the faith will hold,
Kingdoms, nations, empires, in destruction rolled.
(Refrain)

The Chancellor's Welcome

DR DAVID OYEDEPO,
Chancellor, Covenant University

Covenant University will turn ten by October 21 this year. We recall with gratitude to God the prophecy that went forth at the very first matriculation ceremony. It is gratifying to note that the prophecy that by our tenth year, the University would have been listed among world class universities, has been fulfilled in the great exploits we have so far recorded. As we release the 7th batch of Eagles today, we are confident that they will surpass the achievements of their predecessors in their commitment to serving our world with new zeal. We have imbued in each of them the spirit of leadership processed through our core values of Spirituality, Possibility Mentality, Capacity Building, Integrity, Responsibility, Diligence and Sacrifice.

The deliberate training modules of our holistic educational programmes explain why our graduates are preferred in the labour market. Indeed, we are constantly in touch with our covenant with God, parents, our students and our society to raise the next generation of leaders. We are indeed committed to maintaining the lead in providing that brand of education that will make our graduates relevant not only as employees, but also as entrepreneurs who will create jobs.

The Covenant University project has confirmed the belief that our continent needs the right form of education to change our story of gloom. This education is the type that emphasises knowledge, skills and character. It is the brand of education that centres on the human development imperative. That explains our investments in the Total Man Concept programme as well as the unique finishing course of Towards the Total Graduate. It is on record that we pioneered the Entrepreneurial Development Studies Programme for the Nigerian higher education.

We take Covenant University as a revolution in education. It has come to represent a catalyst for national transformation. Our principal agents are the students who are released as Eagles. It is this expressed understanding that informs our strategies, including the curriculum, the environment, the culture and indeed all procedures for enforcing discipline.

We are excited to release to the world the 2012 batch of Eagles. We have every assurance that they have satisfied all the quality assurance criteria to ignite the change we all desire. We are indeed happy to offer you an army of reformers fresh from the stable of our University. While we welcome you all to this event, we congratulate our esteemed parents and yet-to-be released Eagles on the success of this life transforming journey all these years.

FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR PROFESSOR AIZE OBAYAN

We are not just celebrating the convocation ceremony in the traditional sense. Ours is a celebration of the deliberate step to influence our world by the release of Eagles who will inspire change. This understanding is manifest in all our operations since our major mission is to raise a new generation of leaders. It is on this score that we are glad that you have come to bear witness to the faithfulness of God as we release our 7th batch of Eagles, and in our 10th year as a University.

We have been humbled by the giant strides God has enabled us to witness as privileged partakers of the Covenant University vision. The contributions of our Faculty, Staff and Students in research, scholarship and product development have been as revealed in the prophetic declaration at the very first matriculation of our University by the Chancellor.

As we note the events of the contemporary world, we are convinced that our society needs a different approach to the training of the next generation. This explains why we run a departure philosophy as articulated by our Chancellor. It is a departure from – form to skill,-knowledge to empowerment,-legalism to realism-points to facts and Our departure philosophy has been built into our curriculum, lecture modules, delivery methods and our relationship with the wider society.

It is on record that our proprietors, the Living Faith Church Worldwide and the Board of Regents presided over by the Chancellor Dr. David Oyedepo, have been very supportive of our operations. We have also been blessed by a team of committed Faculty and Staff as we work together to process our students into astute leaders.

This batch of Eagles has been described as the Perfect Set in recognition of the Biblical significance of the number Seven. They have indeed exhibited the character of excellence as students. We are confident that they will be torch bearers in all their undertakings as they are released today.

We express gratitude to our parents, partners and stakeholders for believing in the Covenant University vision. We congratulate our new Eagles yet to be released for your success. We are confident that you will make the greatest impact.

CITATION OF MRS. OBIAGELI EZEKWESILI CFR -KEYNOTE SPEAKER

We are blessed today to receive as Keynote Speaker a high flier, an achiever and an icon. Dr. Ezekwesili is a Chartered Accountant and holds a Master's degree in International Law & Diplomacy from the University of Lagos, a Master's degree in Public Policy & Administration from Harvard University's Kennedy School of Government, and a Bachelor's degree from the University of Nigeria, Nsukka. Dr. Ezekwesili began her career with Deloitte & Touche where she worked as an auditor, management and financial services consultant. She then served as a founding Director of Transparency International (TI) and as its Director for Africa from 1994 to 1999.

Between 2000 and 2002, she worked with Professor Jeffrey Sachs as Director of Harvard - Nigeria Economic Strategy Program, during which time she was also appointed as an aide to President Obasanjo. In 2003, she was designated Senior Special Assistant to the President of Nigeria on Budget Monitoring and Price Intelligence.

As Minister of Solid Minerals from 2005 to 2006, Ms. Ezekwesili oversaw the passage of the Minerals and Mining Act, the establishment of the Nigerian Mining Cadastre Office and the opening of the sector to private participation. Ms. Ezekwesili also served as the Chairperson of the Nigerian Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (NEITI) from 2004. She led the team of NEITI to the voluntary sign-on of Nigeria to the EITI Principles as well as the first ever process, financial and physical audit of Nigeria's oil and gas sector. She also served as the Honourable Minister of Education.

As Minister of Education in the Government of Nigeria, she led a comprehensive reform program within the education sector including restructuring and refocusing the ministry for the attainment of Education for ALL (EfA) targets and Millennium Development Goals. She also introduced the Public- Private Partnership models for education service delivery. She revamped the Federal Inspectorate Service as an improved Quality Assurance mechanism and introduced transparency and accountability mechanisms for better governance of the budget. Ms. Ezekwesili led the establishment of the Innovation and Vocational Enterprise Institutions Initiative which focuses on the development of skills for economic competitiveness.

It was from her position as Minister of Education that she was appointed Vice President for the World Bank's Africa Region in 2007 from which she disengaged in May of 2012. She oversaw more than 1800 staff and was responsible for the delivery of projects. Under her leadership, the Bank committed $40 billion to the new project lending program in Africa. From a careful study of 400 economic and analytical scenarios, she was able to offer Africa, unparalleled knowledge services including technical assistance.

In 2006, Ms. Ezekwesili was honoured with the prestigious award of the Commander of the Federal Republic (CFR). She is married to Pastor Chinedu Ezekwesili and they have three sons. Ms. Ezekwesili is embarking on a new Soros Foundation, a funded initiative to establish a pro-reform public policy center for Africa based in Abuja. She is also associated with the founding of an Africa – wide graduate school of public policy to produce capable and competent public servants for African countries. Here indeed, is a true daughter of Africa poised for the transformation of her world.

Ladies and gentlemen, may we receive our Distinguished Keynote Speaker, DR. OBIAGELI EZEKWESILI who as her name suggests is indeed, suitable for enthronement.

CITATION OF DR AKIN OPARISON -DISTINGUISHED CONVOCATION LECTURER

It is indeed a great privilege to introduce Dr. Akin Oparison a very rare gem who has accepted to present today's Guest Lecture.

Akin obtained a B.Sc Honours degree in Human Physiology from the University of Ibadan, Nigeria and started his working career as a medical sales representative with May and Baker a multinational pharmaceutical company, in Nigeria. He left this company, initially to pursue a Master's Degree in Business Administration and ended up obtaining an M.Sc and a Ph.D in Business Policy and Organizational Development from the university of Wales, Cardiff.

He returned to Nigeria and went back to his Alma Mater as a lecturer on the university's MBA program. In 1987, Dr. Oparison joined Price Waterhouse as a Management Consultant with a focus on Human Resource Management. In 1991 he was invited to take up the position of Head of Human Resources for Sterling Winthrop, another multinational Pharmaceutical and Consumer Health Products Company in Nigeria. He worked hard to develop and run the Management Development Training programmes for the Middle East, Africa and Asian Subcontinent (MEAASC) region of Sterling Winthrop.

In 1995, Akin was head-hunted by British American Tobacco to join the Board of its Nigerian subsidiary, a publicly quoted company, as HR Director. He also doubled as Regional HR Manager for West Africa. In 1998, He was seconded to Russia for two years as Compensation and Benefits Manager to harmonize and implement western type performance management, reward and benefits model, practices and processes in two major Soviet companies which British American Tobacco had just acquired in that country.

Our distinguished Guest Lecturer returned to Nigeria as part of a Management team that was charged with winding up an almost 60 years old publicly quoted company where BAT had controlling shares. The team thereafter re-established a new 100% BAT owned company. BAT was then making a multi-million dollar investment to build a state of the art factory, as well as a tobacco leaf growing operation and a marketing company.

For over seven years, Dr. Akin Oparison was HR Vice-President Shell's Downstream Business in Africa. He served as a member of the Executive Management Team for Shell Oil Products Africa as well as a member of the Shell Downstream Global HR Leadership team. He was based in Johannesburg - South Africa. He now runs his own Organizational Performance Improvement practice - 3e Performance Africa.

We have in our midst today, an accomplished academic, scholar, boardroom technocrat, consultant and a fruitful entrepreneur. He has developed innovative systems and strategies. He has raised leaders and experts in the industry and the professions. Ladies and gentlemen, please join me as I request our Guest Lecturer, Dr. Akin OPARISON to take the stage.

INNOVATIVE TEACHING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT EFFORTS

In the area of teaching, the University has continued to blaze the trail by not only ensuring high standards of pedagogy among its faculty but has also periodically organized seminars, workshops, mentoring chats, teaching enhancing seminars, public lectures to improve the quality of teaching, delivery, a rarity in similar institutions in the country to date.

These capacity building activities are in addition to numerous university sponsored external conferences and worship both locally and internationally, have continued to place Covenant University as a University of repute.

In order to further enrich the knowledge base of its faculty and staff in line with its visionary drive of becoming a world class university, the University runs annual Executive Advance for all its Faculty and Senior Non-Teaching Staff at the beginning of every academic session. The Executive Advance series are rich in content and draws high quality resource persons from within and outside the University. Some of the themes of past Advances are: "Corporate Strategies for Building Efficient Teams", (2008/2009 Academic Session); "Constructing A World Class University: Pathways and Process" (2009/2010 Academic Session); "Capacity Building for Continued Relevance" (2010/2011 Academic Session), "Expanding Our Frontiers, Securing the Future" (2011/2012 Academic Session).

As a revolution in education, Covenant University through its unique programmes, has redefined University education in Nigeria and Africa as it sets out to restore academic relevance to the University context in the Continent. The University's custom built programmes of Total Man Concept (TMC), Entrepreneurial Development Studies (EDS) and Towards A Total Graduate (TTG), are very innovative and impactful in raising Agents of Change in all spheres of human endeavours.

While the fundamental philosophy and essence of TMC is premised on accessing the total make-up of human kind from the spirit, soul and body in order to prepare and equip students with the relevant life skills and mindset, which will provide them anchorage as they wade through the tidal waters of life, TTG is an important aspect of the learning culture at Covenant University put in place to ensure smooth transition from the classroom to the external context of the world of work and society at large.

The second custom built course of Covenant University, Entrepreneurial Development Studies (EDS) runs across all levels in the two semesters of the University and it is compulsory for all students. It involves both the thought courses and the practical hands-on components. The University also has a dedicated Centre for Entrepreneurial Development Studies, which takes care of the practical and vocational aspects of EDS. The Centre in partnership with the National Universities Commission (NUC) recently hosted National

The University has also launched a pilot Community ICT Empowerment Project in some secondary schools in Ota where it also presented computers systems and accessories. The University has strategic programmes to grow its host community-Ota. Under this initiative known as 'Grow Ota Project', the University has commissioned a series of research efforts aimed at poverty reduction in the locality. The Centre for Entrepreneurial Development Studies is also impacting and building the manpower capacity of the communities via skill acquisition training in the area of fish farming, snailry, bead and soap making, tie and dye, fashion designing etc. Covenant University public lecture series delivered by some of its eminent professors on

Covenant University

CUTTING-EDGE RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

From the very beginning, Covenant University set out to be a research University. It has directed its efforts towards providing solution to the myriad of challenges in Africa by investing in cutting-edge research, leading to products and patents. In 2010 for example, three (3) certificates of patents were awarded to the University by the National Office for Technological Acquisition and Promotion (NOTAP), Abuja, for three products "Paw-paw Beverage", "Fermented Rice" and "Culture Medium" from the staple of Bio-Technology Research cluster lead by Professor Louis Egwari. They were the first to be registered in the country in that year as at June 2010. To facilitate patenting by staff and external researchers, NOTAP has commissioned an IPTTO office in Covenant University Centre for Research and Development (CUCERD) where investors can process their patents applications.

Covenant University is making enviable marks in cutting-edge research in the area of Bioinformatics and Biotechnology where it has robust research clusters in addition to driving an active research agenda across all the departments in the University.

Covenant University Opinion Poll Unit (CUOPU) through its national survey has continued to set the pace in electoral forecast in the current National elections in Nigeria. All its results published in the national news media have all been validated by the electorates at the polls.

At the Nigerian Universities Research and Development Fair (NURESDEF) held at the University of Nigeria Nsukka in December 2010, Covenant University won three awards and was adjudged the overall second best among 25 Universities that exhibited over 200 Science and Technology Products.

Covenant University's research activities enjoy the immense support of the Board of Regents headed by the Chancellor of Covenant University, Dr. David Oyedepo. In his words: "I will rather waste money on research than keep it fallow". This is attested to by the fact that during this last session alone, apart from a Seed grant of N50million naira support directly given for research work, the Mission also spent about N1.1 billion on cutting-edge research equipment. This strategic gesture is yielding positive dividend in terms of robust research and product development. Recently, the University's research team invented a fuel generating sets.

COLLABORATION AND PARTNERSHIP

In its quest for internationalization, Covenant University has entered into partnerships with some universities and institutions outside the country. The University has faculty/student exchange and research collaboration with Fayetteville State University in North Carolina, USA; Minnesota State University, Mankato, USA; Donetsk National Technical University, Ukraine; International Centre for Information Technology and Development Southern University, Baton Rouge, USA; the Information and Communication Technology University Prairieville, USA; East Carolina University, USA; and Moscow Technical University of Communication and Informatics, Russia.

Covenant University has also benefited from a mutual cooperation with the United States Embassy in Nigeria. Between November 16, 2005 and January 29, 2009, the University has played host to key officials from the Public Affairs Sections of the Embassy, including the Consul-

General, Ms Donna Blair, who delivered lecture to the University Community on three Americans: Barack Obama, Martin Luther King Jr and Abraham Lincoln and inaugurated America Studies Association of Nigeria, Covenant University chapter.

Some of the University faculty members have also enjoyed international fellowships such as Fulbright, Third World Organization for Women in Science, Academy of Sciences, Global Change Systems for Analysis Research and Training, American Society for Microbiology, Canadian International Dept. Agency (CIDA), World Trade Organization Fellowship etc.

CLIPS OF PARTICIPANTS AT WORKSHOP ORGANISED BY COVENANT UNIVERSITY CENTRE FOR ENTREPRENEURIAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES CEDS

“I want to appreciate you for the organized programme because it is a success. I also want to appreciate my place of work for sending me here. Entrepreneurship is what we have been hearing of and learning but I have been able to see the practical dimension here. I want to appreciate you and assure you that we are coming up, so don't relent in your effort.

We hope to have more of this workshop.””

Akinyele Temitayo Abosedo,
Federal College of Education, Abeokuta

I want to say I have attended a lot of seminar before now, sincerely I have not seen any one that is so packed. I have had my commitment arrested. I want to say that in my state a while ago, my governor called six professors who advised him on fish farming and after all the talking I raised my hand and asked “sirs, does any of you have a fish farm?” they told us no, they told us that they have had papers in Geneva, Jamaica, Japan everywhere but no fish farm. In the Centre, I have had the privilege of improving my understanding of fish farming. I was able to learn new ways of formulating feeds with a blend of input from the local environment. If I go back to my home, my state and my centre, you will be glad to have had a student who have passed through the centre in practice and theory””

Yusuff Ibrahim Danjuma
Gombe State University

This is my first time here. I have been hearing of Covenant University especially your CED. I want to say that Covenant University is in its own world in relation to other Universities. I am assured that we are going home to our respective institutions with the new ideas that we have taken here and I want to say that this seminar has fulfilled its objectives”. Thank you.”

Professor P. Eriki,
University of Benin

Actually when I was nominated to this programme, I thought it was going to be the usual academic workshop of talking and writing, but I have come to discover the passion and commitment running in this institution. I have been greatly impressed by this and we are going to follow the same train in my school.

I want to assure you that we are going to put into practice what we have learnt here. Thank you so much””

Emmanuel Okaka,

Ladies and Gentlemen, I would have regretted missing the opportunity to come to Covenant University. This is my first time in this part of the country though my father has been here for over 30 decades. Believe me, the moment I stepped on this campus, I had one impression, this is not Nigeria. My belief is that it is beyond human capacity, it is an inspiration from the Creator and I do believe that I have been inspired. The moment I stepped into this University there are things I observed; commitment, passion and discipline among the staff and students. This University is where practical and theory aspects are harmonized. In all other institutions including the Polytechnics nowadays it is only theory; practical aspects are just superficial. Believe me, I am a changed person, I am really grateful to the University and those who sponsored me to come here””

Greetings on your 7th Convocation Ceremony

I would like to congratulate the Chancellor, Vice Chancellor, Deans, Chairs, faculty and the staff (administrators) of Covenant University on this wonderful and great occasion of their 7th convocation ceremony. We rejoice with you and give thanks to God for the worldwide effect and great things He is doing through Covenant University; training the next generation for the great nation of Nigeria.

To the class of 2012, appropriately dubbed "Eagles 2012."

As you flap your wings armed with the knowledge you have acquired at Covenant University, remember that you are not alone in this journey. He says "I will instruct you and teach you the way you should go and I will guide you with my eye." Also, remember, you cannot do it on your strength because "even the youths grow weary and young men and women get exhausted, but if you wait on the LORD, He will renew your strength and you shall mount up with wings like the eagles. You are now anointed to spread your wings to fly to impact and make a difference in your environment with His power.
